COME ACROSS By Berton Braley

HE payements bake beneath the glare, The days are damp and hot. And in the humid stuffy air Full many a little tot is pining for a bit of breeze Beneath the sky's expanse. Let's send them where there's grass and trees, Let's give the kids a chance!

For be your city small or areat. For, be your city small or great, Within its walls you find Those to whom chance or luck or fate Have proven far from kind; The children of the poor Wither beneath the heat intense Which they must needs endure

Oh grown-up folks can stand the gaff. But children ought to be

Out where the brooklets puri and laugh Or by the cool blue sea. Where there is space for joyous play

Let's help the children on their way, Let's give the kids a chance! (Copyright 1921 by N. E. A.)

THRIFT THE SOLUTION

CLERK in the postoffice department has responded to the postmaster general's request for suggestions as to how to economize in the public ser-

Every time a man or woman in the Every time a man or woman in the government service withholds a requisition for a pencil, a pad of paper, a ball of twine, a pen, or any other piece of equipment which, upon second thought, he realizes he does not need, has by that act really done as good work as if he had put the money value of the article into the public treasurt. Small economies he sack when putty. ury Small economies by each, when multi-plied by the thousands, will result in great savings."

The postmaster general was so impressed by the common sense of this letter that he has circulated it throughout the department.

If more of us Americans who are worried about our personal finances during these depressed days, would act upon this postal clerk's philosophy, we would find it easier to make both ends meet.

JANE ADDAMS

HE election of Miss Jane Addams of Chicago to the presidency of the International Women's congress should be very gratifying to the millions of her fellow countrymen and countrywomen who have long held her in highest esteem for her many noble qualities of head and heart.

The election was at Vienna, where the congress has just concluded the most important meeting in its | believe in good roads, history, and was by unanimous vote of the deligates ng nearly every nation in the worl

Aside from the great personal honor involved in the election, it was significant in its bearing on the many efforts for world peace that are going forward. Miss Addams is devoting all of her great powers to this cause.

The most important action taken by the congress was the adoption of a resolution designed to line up the women of the world for non-participation in any activity that would increase the danger of war.

COUNTY ROAD POLICE

A Tlast night's meeting of the Fairmont Automobile club a committee was appointed to take up with the County court the matter of empoying a traffic officer to patrol the roads of the county. discussion which preceeded this action was carried on in a spirit of complete confidence that the members of the court would cooperate to the full extent of their ability in the movement to make the roads of Marion County safer. Doubtless they will-

The request which the club's committee will make of the court is a reasonable one and the court will be justified in setting aside county money for policing the roads an da large percentage of it is business traffic-It is the dut yof the court to safeguard this in the public interest. The more use business can make of the roads the more prosperous the community will be-

In the past year, thanks largely to the activities of the Automobile club, drivers of motor vehicles have been obeying the laws better to the consequent evident improvement of road conditions. There is an immense amount of traffic on the roads, but there is an element in the community which has little respect for either the law or the rights of others. One such driver is a menace to every other driver on the road at the same time. If the county will undertake, to put these road menaces out of business the Automobile club and public sentiment generally will see to it that the other drivers become even more careful than they are now.

And the net result of such cooperation would be to make it certain that the roads of Marion county would take care of much more traffic than they will be required to carry for many years without the outlay of large sums for road construction. In other words, it will be money in the pockets of the taxpayers to police the roads from now on.

Major Bruce R. Campbell says he did not take all have initiative and brains.
